NAMES.

الشوكة البيضا

G. Αχανθαλευκη.

L. Spina Alba.

I. Spina Bianco.

G. Weiß Dorn.

F. Aubepine.

S. Espina Blanca.

D. Haag-doorn.

HAWTHORN.

PLACE

In Hedges, and sometimes 'tis planted as Trees.

DESCRIPTION.

This Tree being furnished with strong, sharp S excellent Fence: Out of the Wood of the last Year, grows Leaves 2, of a pleasant Green, in which are the young Sta ters 3, on whose Tops are the Empalements, or Flower-Buds into five pointed Parts, cover'd with short White Hairs. The five White Petals, or Leaves, each, of a pleasant Smell; to every two long, and two short White Chives, with Summits of the S they open, the Farina so appears, of a deep Crimson, encircling Style 5, with a Yellow globular Top. The Empalement 6 becomes of the Fruit, or Berries 7; which are a deep Scarlet, smooth and enclosing a deep Yellow Pulp, in which is the Seed 7, in a ha with a small round Aperture 8, at one Side. The young Shoots with a smooth reddish Bark, with Leaves opposite to the Spines

VIRTUES.

The Flowers are accounted diuretic, and good against the Stone.

T. Sheldrake delin. C.H.